

The European School of Karlsruhe came in with various top prizes in the European Schools Latin Reading Competition this year. For Level 1 of this competition, Latin students from our Year 5 English Section Latin class submitted entries as MP3 files, which they recorded at home. The passage chosen was from Virgi's Aeneid Book II. Congratulations go to Emelie Yngstrand and Zoë Todd, who won first and second prizes respectively.

The students from the English Section Year 6 Latin class are also to be congratulated for their film of Cicero's Second Philippic, which won first prize in the Level 2 competition.

The English Section Latin teacher, Julian Morgan, says, "I am thrilled that our students took so much trouble to study the Latin texts so well, and produce such excellent, personal interpretations. It's a terrific achievement for all of us. Well done to all concerned!"

All of these entries can be heard or seen at www.j-progs.com/Karlsruhe/